Tenses Snapshot

The Tenses Summary Table and Tenses Quick Snapshot can be found on the last two pages of this document.

Simple Present:

1. Ajay regularly attends the weekly team meetings at KEPL, ensuring he never misses project deadlines.
2. We consistently adhere to the company's ethical guidelines but do not compromise on the quality of our deliverables, even when facing tight deadlines.
3. Sarah manages client communications, promptly addressing feedback, but she does not handle client accounts directly.
4. They coordinate with the IT department for software upgrades, actively seeking solutions, but they do not engage in practices that violate company policies.
5. Rehman oversees the budget planning process, consistently delivering accurate financial reports to the executive team, ensuring he does not exceed allocated project budgets.

Present Continuous:

1. I am currently working on the strategic planning document for next quarter, but I am not attending the offsite training session this week due to time conflicts.
2. Prakash is actively leading the team in the development phase of the project, ensuring efficient collaboration, but he is not working on the coding tasks now as he is in a meeting.
3. Nancy is coordinating with external consultants to enhance marketing strategies, actively seeking expertise, but she is not collaborating effectively with the design team for this project.

4. They are discussing potential cost-saving measures during the meeting, exploring various options, but they are not considering outsourcing customer support services currently.
5. Kaustubh is participating in ongoing training sessions to improve leadership skills, demonstrating commitment..

Present Perfect:

1. Ajay has successfully implemented efficiency measures in the client relations department.
2. We have completed the mandatory compliance training, ensuring everyone is up-to-date, but we have not received feedback on the proposal yet.
3. Sarah has successfully managed client communications, promptly addressing feedback, but she has not finalized the marketing budget for the next quarter.
4. They have gained valuable insights from attending industry conferences, but they have not attended the leadership workshop.
5. Kaustubh has achieved the sales targets for the fiscal year, showcasing consistent performance, but he has not achieved the targeted ROI.

Present Perfect Continuous:

1. I have been overseeing the client relations department for the past six months, but I have not been attending the weekly team meetings consistently.
2. Prakash has been collaborating with the design team since 2023, fostering creativity.
3. Nancy has been actively participating in the leadership workshops, , but she has not been collaborating with the design team for a while.

4. They have been fostering strategic partnerships with key clients, building strong relationships, but they have not been implementing the recommended changes.
5. Kaustubh has been continuously improving the efficiency of supply chain processes, but he has not been actively involved in the current project.

Simple Past:

1. Ajay completed the critical project ahead of schedule last month, showcasing exceptional performance.
2. We led the team to success in the previous product launch, but we did not face any major challenges during the project.
3. Sarah visited the company's regional offices to conduct training sessions, demonstrating commitment, but she did not present at the international conference last year.
4. They finalized the budget proposal for the financial year, aligning with organizational goals, but they did not exceed the allocated budget for the event.
5. Raghav implemented a new CRM system in the past quarter, , but he did not implement the suggested changes in the previous system.

Past Continuous:

1. Ajay was managing the client relations team while the senior manager was on leave but he was not overseeing the project during his absence.
2. Prakash was overseeing the software development phase during the testing period, but he was not participating in the conference call last week.
3. Sarah was coordinating the logistics for the annual company retreat last year, demonstrating organizational skills, but she was not coordinating with the marketing team for the event.
4. They were participating in a negotiation meeting with a key client, representing the company's interests, but they were not considering the proposal at that time.
5. Kaustubh & Deepak were actively working on the process optimization project, but Deepak was not working on the decision-making process.

Past Perfect:

1. Ajay had already submitted the report before the team meeting started, but he had not missed any project deadlines before the transition.
2. We had completed the coding tasks before the software release, , but we had not received the necessary information before the conference.
3. Sarah had submitted the project proposal before the deadline, showcasing punctuality, but she had not submitted the marketing plan before the review.

4. They had gained valuable experience before taking on leadership roles, contributing to their success, but they had not gained international exposure before the relocation.
5. Rehman had successfully implemented cost-cutting measures, , but he had not implemented the recommended changes in the previous system.

Past Perfect Continuous: (less common)

1. Ajay had been overseeing the client relations department for six months before his promotion.
2. Prakash & Raghav had been collaborating with the design team for several weeks before the project completion.

Simple Future:

1. Ajay will present the company's financial outlook in the upcoming board meeting, showcasing his expertise.
2. We will lead the team in developing the next version of the software but we will not compromise on the quality of our deliverables.
3. Sarah will finalize the details for the upcoming product launch, demonstrating organizational skills, but she will not collaborate effectively with the design team for this project.
4. They will attend a leadership workshop next month to enhance their skills, but they will not be considering outsourcing customer support services at that time.
5. Kaustubh and Deepak will spearhead the implementation of a new project management system, showcasing leadership abilities.

Future Continuous:

1. Ajay will be overseeing the budget planning process throughout next week, but he will not be attending the offsite training session.
2. Prakash will be testing the new software features over the next few days, but he will not be working on the coding tasks during that period.
3. Sarah will be coordinating with external partners throughout the day, but she will not be collaborating effectively with the design team for this project.
4. They will be discussing potential cost-saving measures during the meeting, but they will not be considering outsourcing customer support services at that time.
5. Kaustubh and Deepak will be actively participating in the ongoing recruitment drive, demonstrating commitment to the hiring process.

Future Perfect: (less common)

1. Ajay will have finalized the annual report by the end of the month.
2. Sarah will have presented the marketing strategy before the product launch.
3. Rehman will have successfully implemented process improvements by the end of the fiscal year.

Future Perfect Continuous: (less common)

1. Sarah will have been working on the market research initiative for a year by the upcoming conference.
2. Nancy will have been fostering strategic partnerships with key clients for two years by the next review.

Tenses Summary Table

	positive	negative	question
present simple	subject + verb (+ s).	subject + do / does + not + verb	(question word +) do / does + subject + verb?
	I eat mangoes	I don't eat mangoes	Do you eat mangoes every day?
	She eats apples.	She doesn't eat apples.	When does she eat lunch?
present simple with 'be'	subject + am / is / are	subject + am / is / are + not	(question word +) am / is / are + subject?
	I am hungry.	I am not hungry.	Is he at home?
	She is in a cafe.	She isn't happy.	Why are you hungry?
present continuous	subject + am / is / are + verb-ing	subject + am / is / are + not + verbing	(question word +) am / is / are + subject + verb-ing?
	She's eating toast.	He isn't eating.	When are they eating?
	They are eating lunch now.	We are not eating at home.	Is he eating now?
present perfect	subject + have / has + past participle	subject + have / has + not + past participle	(question word +) have / has + subject + past participle?
	I have eaten breakfast.	We haven't eaten yet.	What have you eaten today?
	He has eaten lunch.	She hasn't eaten the chocolate.	Has she eaten lunch?
present perfect continuous	subject + have / has + been + verbing	subject + have / has + not + been + verb-ing	(question word +) have / has + subject + been + verb-ing?
	I have been eating.	They haven't been eating.	What has she been eating?
	She has been eating biscuits all day.	He has not been eating toast.	Have they been eating breakfast?
past simple	subject + past simple (verb +ed)	subject + did + not + verb	(question word +) did + subject + verb?
	I ate an apple.	She didn't eat anything.	Did you eat the chocolate?
	She ate some rice.	They did not eat breakfast.	What did they eat for lunch?
past simple with 'be'	subject + was / were	subject + was / were + not	(question word +) was / were + subject?
	I was hungry.	We weren't hungry.	Why was she hungry?
	They were in a restaurant.	She wasn't at home.	Were you hungry?
past continuous	subject + was / were + verb-ing	subject + was / were + not + verbing	(question word +) was / were + subject + verb-ing?
	I was eating.	You were not eating.	Where were you eating?
	They were eating lunch.	She was not eating a sandwich.	Was she eating an apple?
past perfect	subject + had + past participle	subject + had + not + past participle	(question word +) had + subject + past participle
	I had eaten.	We hadn't eaten.	Why had you eaten?
	She had eaten lunch.	He had not eaten an apple.	Had they eaten pizza before?
past perfect continuous (rarely used)	subject + had + been + verb-ing	subject + had + not + been + verbing	(question word +) had + subject + been + verb-ing?
	I had been eating chocolate all day.	I had not been eating.	Why had he been eating?
	She had been eating breakfast.	She had not been eating an apple.	Had they been eating enough fruit?
future simple	subject + will + verb	subject + will + not + verb	(question word +) will + subject + verb?
	I will eat later.	We won't eat anything tonight.	What will you eat for lunch?
	She will eat at home.	He will not eat cake.	Will she eat apple?
future continuous	subject + will + be + verb-ing	subject + will + not + be + verb-ing	(question word +) will + subject + be + verb-ing?
	I will be eating at 8pm.	They won't be eating.	What will you be eating?
	She will be eating a sandwich.	He will not be eating anything.	Will they be eating at 6pm?
future perfect (rarely used)	subject + will + have + past participle	subject + will + not + have + past participle	(question word +) will + subject + have + past participle?
	I will have eaten lunch by 3 o'clock.	He won't have eaten lunch yet.	When will you have eaten?
	She will have eaten all the chocolate.	They will not have eaten their sandwiches.	Will she have eaten dinner by nine?
future perfect continuous (rarely used)	subject + will + have + been + verb-ing	subject + will + not + have + been + verb-ing	(question word +) will + subject + have + been + verb-ing?
	They will have been eating fruit.	I won't have been eating cake.	What will she have been eating?
	We'll have been eating all day.	They will not have been eating lunch.	Will you have been eating chocolate?

Tenses Quick Snapshot

